Humphries, strange to relate, is alive and weil, and insists that he was never buried. John J. Lane, to whom the check for $35 was ma sout, said he never saw the check elore, and that the indorsement is a lorgery. It is claimed that a certain well-known Su ervisor signed the check and got the money After the interview, Mr. Walkely refused to say what action the District-Attorney's office was going to take. It is regarded as pretty sale, however, that the whole matter will go before the Grand Jury.

The Mayor finally quieted matters by remarking that all objections has been taken into consideration by the commission.

Mr. Purroy and Comptroller Myers had a similar "run in" at a meeting of the Board of Estimate about a year ago. Mr. Purroy was President of the Fire Commission then. He wanted a transfer of money "to save the starving hower of the Fire Department." The Comptroller said Mr. Furroy made a specious pica and opplied the transfer. Mr. Furroy then called the Comptroller an ass.

TALK OF THE TURF.

Mr. Vosburg Congratulated on the Result of the Midsummer Handicap.

NIGHT RACING AT DETROIT.

Eugene Leigh to Remain at Chicago and Race at Hawthorne Park.

It is rarely in these days of dodging owners that one sees such a cracking good race as the Midsummer Handicap roved to be at Monmouth Park yes terday. There were eight starters.. Five of them finished heads or necks apart. Further than that, they got away on field scatter. From flag-fall to finish it was a close, hurrying, hustling bunch, and the strongest jockeys at the finish had the advantage. Through the last furlong Sleipner, Vestibule, Ajax, Merry at work on his mount, and the steel went deep into the quivering sides, while the rawhide raised cruel welts on the glossy coats of the struggling thorough breds. In the last few jumps Overton fairly lifted Sleipner to the front and won by a short neck. Vestibule's nose Monarch and Blitzen were lapped on the leaders. The race was a triumph of the handicapper's skill, and Mr. Vosburg was the subject of much congratulation after the race. Let a few more such races be run and the grand stand at Monmouth Park will have but few empty benches.

The great colt Meddler, son of St. Gatien and Busybody, has arrived safely in this country. He was landed from the White Star steamship Bovic this morning. Mr. Forbes, who paid $75,000 for this choice specimen of horseflesh, is as yet undecided whether to race the colt in this country.

Pierre Lorillard whipsawed the Mon-nouth Handkap. He played Skipner o win and Vestibule for a place. Fairy will be retired to the Belle Meade stud this Fall.

The South Jersey Jockey Club has wisely decided to abandon hurdle racing. It is a waste of time and money to foster this branch of the sport. ing water before any assistance could Major Domo is said to be much improved. He has been at Saratoga during the past two months, and the rest has benefited him so much that Mr. Spiers hopes to get him up to a race very soon.

Eugene Leigh has been induced by Ed Corrigan to remain in Chicago and race at Hawthorne Park. Longstreet was beaten again yesterday and pulled up sore and lame. It is a pity that this gallant thoroughbred should be handled in such fashion.

A white woolly dog ran up the straight just before the first race yesterday. Many of the superstitious played King-ston on this account, his colors being all white. A few days ago Wah Jim was easily beaten by Hammie and Sir Arthur, His odds were not long. Yesterday the price was larger and his speed seemed to increase accordingly, Perhaps if 100 to 1 were laid against Wah Jim he would run over the moon.

Ajax ran a smashing good race, considering he was conceding weight to everything.

Evidently Steve Estes's defeat of Stone-nell a few days ago was a fluke. He was badly benten by a worse lot yester-day. . . . Blitzen was only beaten four heads in the Midsummer Hundicap. He is in ex-cellent shape, despite his Winter cam-paign.

. . . The night running meeting of the Exposition Park Club, of Detroit. Mich.,
opened last night to a large crowd. The events were well contested, and the horses could be easily distinguished under the brilliant glare of the electric light.
